Sunday Reflection

God “did not make death” and does not plan our suffering; since the fall, He gives us life, and He and we must face suffering and death with faith that love conquers all.

The reading from Wisdom is abundantly clear: “God did not make death, and He does not delight in the death of the living.” Cancer, miscarriage and all kinds of tragedy are not God’s plan.

He grieves with us in our losses and sufferings of every kind.

Since the fall, suffering and death will be part of human experience. Here’s the miracle:

God is radically committed to our freedom and to the gift of creating life.

In spite of sin, suffering and death, God continues to love creation and human beings who are a part of it.

For reasons we will not know on this side of heaven, God still believes life is worth giving to us as a gift.

He sent His Son to live through it with us, and to have victory over death in Resurrection.

Whatever suffering you are walking through, God does not delight in it, and He did not plan it.

But He will walk through it with you and work Resurrection out of it.

That is the promise of abundant, eternal life

Stewardship Reflection

“...as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their want, so that their abundance may supply your want, that there may be equality.” 2 CORINTHIANS 8:14

We are responsible not only for our own lives, but for the lives of those around us. It is important that we not only grow, nurture and share our gifts; but that we also teach our children and encourage others to do the same. This is the communal aspect of our Catholic faith.

We are the “Body of Christ”.

We are called to be dependent on each other and not live in isolation.
